MANUSCRIPT FORMATTING FOR POSTER

Research posters summarize information or research concisely and attractively to help publicize it and generate discussion. The poster is usually a mixture of a brief text mixed with tables, graphs, pictures, and other presentation formats. At a conference, the researcher stands by the poster display while other participants can come and view the presentation and interact with the author. To submit a poster, you'll need to submit ONE file in Microsoft Word (.doc, .docx) or .pdf format with the following information:

- Poster title - Your poster should have a succinct title that describes the main finding of your research. Keep in mind that the poster title will be listed in conference program without the abstract and meeting attendees often use the titles to decide which posters to visit. When possible, the title should indicate the important result, rather than the experimental question.
- Poster abstract - The abstract should briefly describe your research findings (up to 250 words).
- Track - Choose the track to which your research belongs.
- Keyword - Select three keywords that best represents your poster. Keywords are used to organize presentations by topic in poster sessions.
- Summary - The summary describes the study in detail, including methods and results (up to 1000 words). The references do not count toward the word limit. Use APA citation style for references.
